 ravin system allows us to pour premium wine without removing the cork, and the remaining wine for future enjoyment. It uses a thin needle and a gentle injection of argon gas, so each glass tastes as fresh as first pour.

V vegan-friendly, as it is produced without animal-derived fining agents.

(IGT Typical Geographical Indication." It designates wines that come from a specific Italian region but don't have to follow the strict production rules of higher classifications (DOC or DOCG). IGT allows winemakers more freedom in grape choice and methods, leading to diverse and innovative wines that still reflect regional characteristics.

DOC (Denominazione di Origine Controllata): An Italian classification that guarantees a broader geographic origin and more flexibility in production and grape varieties. wine is made in a specific region following quality and production standards.

DOCG (Denominazione di Origine Controllata e Garantita): The highest Italian wine, ensuring even stricter regulations and a government taste test for quality

IGP (Indication Géographique Protégée): The French equivalent of IGT, used across Europe to denote from specific regions with certain quality
